MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 8, 1860.

To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble out OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

News Digest.

A large Republican meeting was held at Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday. Speeches were made by THOS. CORWIN and others.—The torchlight procession in the evening was a fine affair.

The Prince of Wales took farewell leave of the President on Saturday, and proceeded on his way to Richmond, Va.

The RAVEL family sailed for Europe in the Adriatic on Saturday.

THE GREAT WIDE-AWAKE DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK.—The Wide-Awake gathering in New York on Wednesday last, seems to have exceeded the most sanguine expectation of the most zealous Republicans. There were no less than 13,625 men in the ranks and the line was five miles in extent. Such a scene, the New York papers assure us, was never before witnessed in that city of processions. The monster whig pageant of 1844, the democratic demonstration of the same year; the cable celebration—all pale their ineffectual fires before the brilliancy of this great torchlight parade.

On Chatham square the crowd was very dense. The river of fire passed through it and rolled into East Broadway, while the uninterrupted stream continued to pour through Chatham street. There was nothing very grand or striking in the first appearance, for the few swaying lamps did not present a very imposing front. The enthusiasm of the crowd quickly subsided and the people settled themselves on their or legs, as the case might be, to quietly watch the passing of the procession. But this was a more arduous task than was anticipated.

Division after division passed and still there was no end. They that had seats became tired of sitting in them and stood up, and, becoming tired of standing, sat down again; and still the line moved on.

The World says the procession was an hour and a half in passing that office.

MEMBERS OF Congress who served with Mr. LINCOLN, though now opposing him, are constrained to praise him. It is pleasant to know that our candidate for the President is universally indorsed as an upright, patriotic man. Mr. WINTHROP, of Massachusetts, (BELL man) in a speech, says:

"It was my fortune to be in the House of Representatives with Mr. Abraham Lincoln during his only term of Congressional service. You will be sure that I remember him with interest. If I may be allowed to remind you that he helped to make me the Speaker of the Thirtieth Congress, when the vote was a very close and strongly contested one, and which certain gentlemen of the West and East, whom I remember with no unkindness, refused me their support. I certainly thought well of Mr. Lincoln then, and I have not a word to say against him now. If he should become President of the United States by fair constitutional means, he shall have my best wishes for his success, and I will stand by the Union and the Constitution with him and under him as long as he stands by them himself." [Applause.]

UPPER PENINSULA, MICHIGAN.—The telegraph states that the Democrats have carried the Upper Peninsula, Michigan, for local offices, and calls the result a Democratic gain. This is a mistake. That region has been heavily Democratic heretofore. Here is the result last fall:

	Rep.	Dem.
Chippewa	40	86
Houghton	132	378
Mackinac	97	102
Marquette	120	159
Total	389	725

Which shows that the Upper Peninsula went Democratic more than two to one. The "gains" are a myth.

A METEOR was seen in the town of Lagrange, Walworth county, on Tuesday last, about four o'clock in the afternoon. Miss R. PHELPS gives the most minute description of it. She says it was in appearance a large ball, moving rapidly to the west, at the height of nearly a mile from the earth, and that soon after she first saw it, the interior exploded with a noise like loud thunder, the reverberations lasting for a minute or more. WESLEY HARRIS, of that town, was in his store at the time, and heard the report, which he says sensibly jarred the whole building. Others who heard it likened the noise of the explosion to the report of a large cannon, and say it did not at all resemble thunder, the noise being sharp and quick. The report was heard a distance of over eight miles from where the meteor was seen.

GOV. WILLARD DEAD.—A private despatch received on Friday night from St. Paul, Minnesota, states that GOV. WILLARD, of Indiana, died in that city on the night of the 4th inst., of consumption. This announcement will bring pain and grief to many of our readers. We knew Governor WILLARD well. He possessed brilliant talents and a good heart. He was his own worst enemy. With many faults, he possessed so many virtues that no one who knew him could help loving him, however much he might deprecate his errors.—Gov. WILLARD leaves a family, to whom his death will prove an irreparable loss.

IRELAND furnished the following remarkable item, contained in a private letter written at Limerick: "A most extraordinary transaction has just occurred within six or seven miles of this place. A farmer when going over his crops, accompained by some of his neighbors, was so grieved at witnessing the injuries inflicted by rain &c, that he prayed to God he might be struck asleep until the fine weather would come. He had only uttered the prayer, when he fell to the ground at full length, fast asleep, and so firm in the earth, that he could not be removed. A shed has been built over him, and hundreds are daily going to see him; he breathes as naturally as if he was lying asleep on his bed."

A NEW ROCK DRILL.—Mr. LUCIUS M. GILMORE, of Janesville, has invented, and has just received a patent for a machine for drilling wells in solid rock, which is quite an improvement over the old method, both in respect to the rapidity and ease with which the work is accomplished, and in its cheapness. This invention consists in an improvement in the drill, so that it can be taken apart to be sharpened and expanded, so that the hole is made of a uniform diameter.

SIGNOR TONISI, a young Italian engineer at work surveying among the mountains which separate Savoy and France, recently attempted, against the advice of his guides, to descend alone over a glacier. The letter to the London Times, stating the circumstances, says:

"Ten minutes elapsed, and the guides, not seeing anything of him, feared an accident, and went in search of him. Cautiously following his track, they came to a circular opening in the snow, about two feet in circumference, through which the unfortunate man had fallen into a crevice twenty yards deep. He was still alive, and called to the guides to get ropes and draw him out.—Before the ropes could be procured, three hours elapsed, and in the meantime he had died of cold and of the injuries he had received. The guides heard his groans but could afford no relief. The following day his dead body was found in the torrent which falls from the glacier, and was interred at Susa."

CONVICTED.—AUGUST QUAST was tried and convicted in the Dodge County Circuit Court on Tuesday last, at Juneau, for placing obstructions on the track of the Chicago and North Western Railroad some time last summer, a few miles south of Watertown. The prisoner was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the State Prison at Waupun. The prosecution was conducted by District Attorneys PEASE and J. J. ENOS, Esqs., of Watertown, and the defence by JAMES H. KNOWLTON, of Janesville.

GREAT PARADE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Reception of Gol. Curtin—Largest Demonstration Ever Witnessed.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3, '60.

The parade of the Republican Clubs tonight to receive Col. CURTIN, at the close of his campaign in the interior, was the largest and most imposing ever witnessed in this city, and completely extinguished the recent Bell and Everett turnout, which had less than one-fourth of the numbers, and did not compare in spirit or effect with this demonstration. Upward of 10,000 voters were in the line at one time, and the streets through which the procession passed were thronged with multitudes of spectators for miles, who cheered it at all principal points.

A significant feature of the occasion was the appearance of the new club of "Mercantile Tariff Men," headed by some of the oldest and best merchants of the city, and entirely composed of enterprising business men, who sell their "prints," but not their principles. This display has greatly increased the confidence of our friends in the city, which has been growing daily for the past fortnight. The impression now prevails that Col. Curtin will carry Pennsylvania by a handsome majority. The honest friends of Bell openly repudiate the sale of them attempted by the managers, and the discovery that the British agents and Free Traders in New York have contributed large sums of money to elect Foster now, as they did Packer in 1856 to prevent any modification of the tariff, has produced reaction and excitement. Col. Curtin will carry the State by 15,000 or 20,000, and perhaps much more.

Feeding a Homeless Nation.

BEIRUT, SYRIA, Aug. 31, 1860.

The Anglo-American Relief Committee for Syria has just published a report of its proceedings. The report goes to the American public with but one signature, and that of the British Consul, but the American element enters largely into the Committee.—Our own Consul is the Vice President, and our missionaries are the working men of the society. The Executive Committee, which distributes the money, keeps the accounts, and, in short, all the hard and responsible work, is composed chiefly of American missionaries, and of which Rev. Dr. Wm. M. Thomson is the chairman.

Could you see the immense multitude now thronging the mission premises, clamoring for their daily allowance, and our decoring for their daily allowance, and our devoted missionaries working like day-laborers, you would understand something of the nature of the great work in hand.

Although no money has yet been received from America for the relief of these starving multitudes, the Americans of Syria have nobly discharged all the duties which devolved upon them as philanthropists and Christian men. The ladies may be seen hard at work cutting out garments three days in every week, in the mission school room, and the crowds of females who are supplied by them are all busily engaged in making up the raw material. Abro Effandi, the Secretary of Fuad Pasha, is also exerting himself to relieve the suffering. Three thousand of the homeless were induced by him to leave the filthy and over-crowded streets of the city, and occupy the quarters furnished by the government at the quarantine ground, about one mile distant from the city.

In order to keep them from straying away from the sheds erected there, he had the doors locked at night, which act of kindness was far from being duly appreciated by the refugees. Fearing that they were about to share the cruel fate of their friends at Deir el Korn and Hastelya, who trusted themselves to the tender mercies of the government officials, they forced open the doors and fled, and Abro Effendi found to his astonishment only three-hundred applicants for food on the following morning. Abro Effendi is an American, and is making himself very useful at this juncture. He is now making an arrangement for the construction of a road from Beirut to the neighboring river, in order to give those poor mountaineers employment and compensation, and at the same time to facilitate the transportation of water to the city, which is now greatly needed, as the fleet and the French camp, together with the crowd of refugees, have almost exhausted our very limited supply of water.

They refused last week to work as laborers upon the Damascus road, at a distance of several miles from the city, fearing such an exposure to the Druses, and dreading still more the proximity of the Turkish soldiers who were to be sent to protect them. Poor Syrians! they know too well the extent of protection afforded by the by Turkish soldiers against the Druses.

The creation of Syria into a Vice Royalty is now the theme of the discussion in our political circles—and it would seem that Napoleon is quite in favor of the plan, provided Aud el Kader—whom he has presented with the Grand Cordon of the Legion of Honor, set in diamonds, at a cost of fourteen thousand francs,—shall be constituted Viceroy! This is a solution of our difficulties worth thinking of, as it would accomplish the object of a continental French protectorate without giving rise to a general war in Europe, or the dismemberment of the Empire.

The Emperor, we learn, has contributed twenty-five thousand francs and the Empress ten thousand for the poor of Syria; and the Baron de Chasseal, a celebrated soldier of the Italian war, is coming to put himself at the disposal of Abd el Kader for the protection of the Christians.

The New York Fusion.

[From the New York Tribune, of the 4th.]

One of the jolliest performances that ever took place on any stage was enacted at Albany yesterday. The Douglas State Committee met with Mr. S. F. Butterworth and the illustrious Alderman Dayton, of Brooklyn, and solemnly completed the famous fusion. In place of Mr. Henry S. Randall, as Elector at large, the Hon. Greene C. Bronson was chosen, probably on account of the Freesoil opinions he held in 1848.—John H. Brewer, Stephen P. Russell, W. B. Duncan and W. B. Kobbe, of this city, and A. B. Conger, of Rockland, were put on the District Electors, in place of C. H. Collins, O. Ottendorfer, F. R. Tilton, J. Robinson, J. Anderson and E. Haight, who declined. W. C. Crain, of Herkimer, was made candidate for Lieutenant Governor, in the place of Judge Allen, and that was all. We are sorry to say that it is a fusion in which the hostile parties are not fused.—The Breckinridge leaders announce that they shall pursue the war to the bitter end, and the Hon. S. F. Butterworth pours the last contempt upon the whole scheme by declaring that Mr. Buchanan's administration is in favor of it. So ends the motley and impossible efforts at fusion in the State of New York. The thing was as unnatural as the mingling of fire and water. The fusers have covered themselves with ridicule. That is the whole story.

G. W. MAYHEW, } Secretaries.
N. SCHANTZ, }

Scandinavian Republican Club.

The Scandinavian Republicans will hold their weekly meeting at their room, in Becker's Block, on Lake street, head of Ferry street, on Monday evening, at half-past 7 o'clock. Let every Scandinavian attend.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

The Weekly Sentinel.

The WEEKLY SENTINEL is now ready.—It contains a full report of the great Horse Show, with the premium lists. Also a succinct record of the past week's news, local, telegraphic, and from all parts of the State. The WEEKLY SENTINEL is for sale at our counter, in wrappers, ready for mailing.

DECISION OF JUDGE MCARTHUR IN THE HORICON RAILROAD MATTER.—Judge McArthur, of the Circuit Court, gave his decision Saturday on the Horicon railroad question, that was laid before him in the early part of the week.

It was that a writ of assistance should issue from that Court to the Receiver, Mr. Fairchild, who represents the Smith interest. The effect of this is to put Mr. Fairchild in possession of the road, provided he can get it. It also has the effect of pitting the Circuit Court against the U. S. District Court.

MILWAUKEE SAVING'S STORE.—MACK BROTHERS, 181 East Water Street, are not behind their neighbors in the dry goods trade. By reference to their advertisement it will be seen that they offer Adriana, Japanese and Tycoons, splendid chintz and Repps. (Now we pretend to know a thing or two in common with all editors, but MACK BROTHERS have rather "got us" on the Repps! Arab cloaks and mantillas, elegant silks and articles for men and boys clothing, are expatiated upon feelingly.

MACK BROS. are worthy of patronage; their stock is unsurpassed and they sell reasonable. Don't forget to call and look at their stock, and especially those Repps.

MAN KILLED ON THE LA CROSSE RAIL ROAD.—WILLIAM CADY, a fireman on the Mail train due here at 2:15 A. M. on Saturday, fell from the cars as the train was passing Richfield, the wheels passing over him and severing his left leg from his body. The train was immediately stopped, and the unfortunate man picked up. He was brought to this city and put under the care of Dr. WOLCOTT, but expired shortly afterwards.

Deceased was an unmarried man, having parents at Dannemora, N.Y. Supt. GOODRICH provided a metallic coffin and sent the remains to that place by express.

DOUGLAS COMING TO MILWAUKEE.—We hear that Senator DOUGLAS will visit Milwaukee, next Saturday, and explain to the faithful here why it is that he "does not care whether Slavery is voted up or down." The distinguished exponent of "Squatter Sovereignty" will be welcomed by a large crowd here, and will be listened to, by opponents, as well as friends, with respectful attention.

AND NOW the SCHURZ slander has run its length, and got down to the grade where it belongs; the Madison Patriot publishes it.—There it will stop. There is no sheet with so little regard for its own character as to copy it now that the Madison "slangwhanger" adopts it.

THE CONTINUATION CASE.—The case of Marshal LEWIS, charged with assault and battery, came up in the Municipal Court on Saturday, and was—continued to October 12. A few more establments of this interesting subject will about finish it.

The Horse Show.

The weather on Saturday was most propitious for the exhibition at the Fair grounds, and a large attendance of visitors was the result. on Thursday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

E. B. Wolcott, S. B. Davis, Harrison Ludington, Hans Crocker, J. L. Burnham, John V. Robbins, T. C. Dousman, W. D. McIndoe, Alexander Mitchell, E. D. Holton, E. Cramer, J. E. Dousman, Charles Quentin, S. S. Daggett, Simon Ruble, Benj. Ferguson, Moses Whitesides, Isaac Taylor, Harvey Durkee, Wm. H. Hobkirk, Norman Wiard.

We noticed a great number of judges of horse flesh on the grounds, and all seemed to be pleased with the exhibition.

At half-past ten the bell rang, and the horses were bought in. All the entries, except Mr. ROGERS's, were on the ground, and after considerable delay in waiting for him, the trial of speed came off between RUBLE's sorrel mare, Lady Victory, and DOUGLASS' bay mare, Highland Mary. The inside of the track was given to the sorrel mare, and at the word "start," she sailed out about half a length ahead, and was held in by a strong rein. On the last half, however, the bay brought up and they came on neck-and-neck, until within a few paces of the Judges' stand, when the sorrel shot ahead, and came out a length and a half ahead. Distance, 1 mile; time 2:38. This was a handsome trial of speed, and was very closely contested.

Highland Mary was raised in Ohio, and is only nine years old. She is a trim built, good blooded mare, but is not quite as fleet as her competitor. We think she ran the handsomest, however, keeping a steadier gait, and not appearing to fret in the least.

Lady Victory was raised in Kentucky, and is out at the word, getting the advantage, which she is sure to hold; and her every movement showed a restlessness peculiar to all "coursers."

Dr. CASTLEMAN had an excellent thorough bred bay mare, Grounsell, with a pedigree showing good blood. But as he did not enter her for speed, her merits will rest entirely with her blood.

Mr HOUTON's chestnut mare, Lizzie, shows good blood, is of large size, but was not entered for speed.

Mr. ROGERS' Prairie Bird, also appeared like a fleet animal, but did not compete in the trial of speed.

Class 21 was then called, being single roadsters in harness. The trials of speed attending the exhibition of this class, were highly interesting, and elicited much admiration from the spectators.

This, the first exhibition of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical Association has been a signal success, and demonstrated the entire feasibility of the plan proposed by the organization Next year, there is every reason to believe we shall have a display here such as has never before been attempted in the State. The officers elected are gentlemen of practical ability, who have the interests of the Association at heart, and are determined to make it the focus of all that is noteworthy in the State.

It is peculiarly gratifying to all who take an interest in this praiseworthy undertaking, that notwithstanding the weather was unfair during the first two days of the show, and although the organization is of such recent date, the attendance of prime stock has been unusually good, and that of visitors even beyond what was expected. The receipts have more than covered the expenses, heavy as was the outlay. We have before alluded to the superior location of the grounds, and the capital manner in which the association has fitted them up. It now remains for our citizens throughout the State to recognize the new institution in a proper spirit, and it will not fail to become of the greatest benefit to Wisconsin at large.

THE GYMNASIUM.—Dropped into the Gymnasium the other day: very interesting, clerks, cashiers, editors and lawyers, were revolving and shooting like the corruscations at a great display of fire works.

Respectable clerk of Bank was making two hundred revolutions a minute round an axis of pine. Pride of the prospective bar, was elevated in a situation of self-torture, near the ceiling after the manner of the Brahmins. The handsome locale of the Wisconsin, was imitating Curtius and casting himself repeatedly into a breach ("made on purpose"). Half a dozen respectable young men were hanging promiscuously by legs and arms and teeth. Venerable but consumptive official was climbing a pole.

Several shadows were throwing out their chests with dumb bells, and such was the potency of the exercise, that you could see their bosoms expand and open like a rose under the influence of magic.

Some of them when they came away, looked like a priori hump-backs. One persevering dry-goods man climbed a ladder backwards and couldn't get down. Proprietor had to get a pole with a hook on the end and lift him off. Noticed one fellow who foolishly practiced with one arm. Muscle so much developed on one side made him lean over, proprietor made him go to work developing the other arm to balance himself.

Proprietor asked us to join. Thought of our wife and family and respectfully declined.

MUNICIPAL COURT, OCT. 6TH.—Edward Johnson and Alfred Thompson, drunk.—Fined $5 and costs. Paid.

George Gee and Margaret Davy, disorderly. Gee discharged, and Margaret found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs. Paid.

Marshal J. H. Lewis, assault and battery. Continued to Oct. 12th.

John Lovey, charged with the murder of his wife at Oak Creek. On motion of J. L. Doran, counsel for defendant, examination held open and postponed to Oct. 11th.

Grand Jury brought in but one indictment, that against Lyn, and they were discharged for the term on Wednesday. The Petit jury come together on Monday next, when Lyn is to be tried, and the case of embezzlement against R. B. Lynch, is also set down for trial at this term.

AT A MEETING of the Board of School Commissioners on Friday night, Prof. LARKIN of the Second Ward High School, was transferred to the Seventh Ward High School.

This is a move which will undoubtedly meet with the approbation of all disinterested citizens. Mr. LARKIN is an able and worthy gentlman and teacher, and the change will result to the advantage of the Ward and himself.

THE UBIQUITY OF PATENTS.—The Scientific American, in noticing a new patent bier for lowering coffins into graves, indulges in the following strain in reference to patents:

"The life of this age, most assuredly, moves on patent inventions. The infant is wrapped in linen which has been woven on a patent loom, from yarn spun upon a patent frame, and he draws his first drop of nourishment from his mother's breast through a patent nipple shield. The girl fondles a patent doll, the boy whirls a patent top or plays with a ball which is made under one of the most valuable patents of the age. In later life we put on a French yoke shirt, which, with the rest of our clothes, is sewed on a patent machine, with a patent thread, by a patent needle, which comes enveloped in a patent wrapper, and our very boots are made of patent leather.—We rise in the morning from a patent elliptic spring bed, undo the patent fastenings of our windows, roll up our patent curtains, open the patent lock of our doors, which was constructed by patent machinery, and go down to our office, which is made in a "Old Dominion" pot. We write with one of Morton's patent pens, which we dip into patent ink in a patent stand. Thus, surrounded by patents, we pass our life, which is filled with gorgeous dreams of making a splendid fortune by some patent invention of our own, till at last we are placed in a patent burial case, and lowered from a patent bier into our final place of rest."

WE ARE REQUESTED by a lady to publish the following, which she declares is "excellent:"

RECEIPT FOR THE BEST PICKLES EVER MADE.—A pack of green tomatoes, sliced, one dozen onions, sliced also, sprinkle them with salt and let them stand until the next day, then drain them. Then use the following as spice: One box of mustard, one and a half ounces of black pepper, one ounce of whole clover, one ounce of allapice, and one of tomatoes and onions alternately. Cover them with vinegar; wet the mustard before putting it in; let the whole boil twenty minutes, and you will have pickles so good that you will be pestered by all your friends, asking you for the receipt.

AT A MEETING of the Fourth Ward Republican Club held on Friday evening last, Mr. W. W. COLEMAN introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of the Fourth Ward Republican Club fully endorse the action of the late County Convention, and promise their cordial support for the ticket nominated, and will endeavor to roll up a large majority for the same, on the 7th day of November, than will be given by any other Ward or town in the County.

THERE WAS a rousing Republican meeting in the 8th Ward Saturday night. BERNHARD DOMSCHKE made a capital speech, and the enthusiasm was unbounded. The 8th Ward voters are in good spirits and ready for the war. The Wide-Awakes marched to the meeting early in the evening and made a very fine display.

THE WEATHER.—The last two or three days have been sufficiently pleasant. The coolness of the air betokens an approaching winter, but the genial sun only reminds one of the many comforts that will accompany it.

GREAT RACE TO-DAY AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.—A race will come off to-day, at the Fair Grounds, between Capt Beauford and Princeton,—one mile and repeat, for a purse of $300,—at two o'clock P. M. To be followed by a race between Little Flea and Queen Victor, for $150.

OUR FRIENDS, the Dashaways, are becoming altogether too zealous. One of them, in his zeal, the other night, dashed through the lath and plaster of the lodge room, and has not been heard from since. The orator's exit.

THE MURDER CASE.—The case of JOHN LOVEY, charged with the murder of his wife at Oak Creek, was, on motion of J. L. DORAN, the counsel for defendant, held over to October 11.

Ought the Democracy to be again Trusted?

During the past eight years they have failed to pass one bill for the benefit of any great national interest. On the contrary they have defeated every good measure the Republicans have proposed.

They defeated the Homestead Bill.

They defeated the Pacific Railroad Bill.

They have defeated the Overland California Mail Bill.

They have defeated the bill to abolish polygamy in Utah.

They defeated the bill to repeal the unconstitutional slave code in New Mexico.

They have defeated the bill to admit free Kansas.

They did introduce slavery into Kansas, Nebraska, and all of New Mexico, and in the two former refused to let the people vote it out.

They did create a national debt of $160,000,000.

They did wink at the slave trade.

They did reprimand a Naval officer for arresting the expedition of Billibuster WALKER, after sending him to do it.

They did burst wide open, and one of the fragments did endorse the unmitigated nigger, and the other did fuse with the Know-Nothing party after failing to find its mother.

A FITTING NOMINEE.—JOHN H. MCCUNN is the nominee of the New York Douglasites for City Judge. This is his portrait as drawn by himself at a recent gathering in Tammany Hall:

> Mr. McCunn said he had just come from Ireland. * * * He also remarked that his bones and sinews were made up of Irish beef, Irish potatoes, and a small taste of whiskey. He concluded with the promise that if elected to the City Judgeship, he would not forget his friends or his party, and would do his duty; and a request to the President of the meeting to put him down for whatever sum he liked, and he would give a check for the amount.

"Comment is" etc. The thing speaks for itself—himself—his party.

HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON, the Douglas candidate for Vice-President, in a speech last week at Pittsburgh, Pa., said: "Look at the slaves in your own workshops! They are driven to the polls at the beck of their masters, under penalty of being discharged!"—This was received with indignant cries of "Not so!" "No, sir!" "No, no!" "No, sir-e-e, bob!" and so on, the working men in the crowd giving the insulting falsehood the most emphatic denial.

GOV. RANDALL'S APPOINTMENTS.—We are authorized to state that GOV. RANDALL will address the people on the political issues of the day at the following times and places:—Richland Centre, Friday, Oct. 12; Jefferson, Saturday, Oct. 13; Fox Lake, Monday, Oct. 15; Green Bay, Friday, Oct. 19; Appleton, Wednesday, Oct. 24; Menasha, Thursday, Oct. 25; Neenah, Thursday, Oct. 25.

Important State Elections.

PENNSYLVANIA, OHIO and INDIANA hold their State elections to-morrow, and the results, as having a strong influence upon the Presidential contest, are looked for by all parties with intense interest. In Ohio, the various factions opposed to the Republicans have "fused" on a candidate for Supreme Judge, and we shall therefore be able to tell precisely what their joint vote amounts to As to the Presidency, however, no man questions that the vote of Ohio will be cast for LINCOLN.

In PENNSYLVANIA, the Keystone State, which saved the Democracy from a disastrous rout in 1856, both wings of the Democracy, aided by the Know Nothings, have united upon FOSTER, as their candidate for Governor. But this "fusion" cannot extend to the Presidential election, and the Allies of to-day will be enemies in November. Both sides are sanguine of carrying Pennsylvania to-morrow. Our faith is strong that the Republicans will win the day. But even if beaten by the BELL-DOUGLAS-BRECKINRIDGE coalition now, we entertain no doubt that Pennsylvania will vote for LINCOLN in November.

The state of affairs in Indiana is similar to that in the Keystone State. The BRECKINRIDGE, DOUGLAS and BELL men, though refusing to unite upon an Electoral ticket, have "fused" on the candidates for State officers. They are confident of success, in virtue of this coalition. The Republicans, on their side, are equally confident, and we think, with good reason. Should Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana go for the Republican cause to-morrow, the Presidential contest will be virtually decided, and the Sham Democracy will give up the contest without a struggle.

Connecticut Awake!

Connecticut elected town officers in most of the townships on Tuesday, and the returns are overwhelmingly Republican. Norwich, New London, Bridgeport, Meriden, Glastenbury, Coventry, New Britain, Brantford, and South Windsor, are among the towns we have heard from as going republican—many of them gains; others carried by largely increased majorities. The vote was generally large for town meetings.—Norwich polled very nearly 2,000 votes, and turned out her Democratic officers by over 200 majority. Meriden gave us 60 majority last Spring; now 242 New Britain, South Windsor, and Brantford are among the towns gained by the Republicans.

We had the pleasure of a call, on Saturday, from a prominent member of the original Hartford "Wide-Awakes," and he assured us that Connecticut is as certain for LINCOLN, by a large majority, as Vermont or Maine is.

Why Georgia Supports Douglas.

HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, of Georgia delivered a DOUGLAS speech at Atlanta on the 25th ult. He declared that DOUGLAS was the first statesman of his section to assert the inequality of the negro, and to declare that slavery was right, morally, religiously and politically. The following extract from Mr. STEPHENS' speech is respectfully recommended to the lovers of popular sovereignty, as illustrated by DOUGLAS and STEPHENS in this vicinity:

"It was popular sovereignty that introduced negro slavery into the colonies of Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia, against the prohibitory powers attempted to be exercised by the trustees of the crown of Great Britain. It was popular sovereignty which made Georgia, Tennessee, and even Texas slave States. In Texas there was a law prohibiting the introduction of slavery, yet popular sovereignty carried it there. And for that reason the people saw that slavery was suited to the soil and climate of Texas. So it will be everywhere. Soil and climate will control it in the settlement of all the Territories. But, believing as I do, that slavery is the normal condition of the negro, and that it is one of the fixed laws of the Creator that it shall exist, I believes the time will come when it will exist in every State in the Union."

Government Land Sales.

Government land sales will take place in Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas, at the times and places designated in the following table. These sales embrace 4 3 4 millions of acres in Minnesota; 1 1-4 millions of acres in Iowa, and about 1-4 million acres in Kansas. Before those sales take place it is necessary that pre-emptors, or squatters prove up, or perfect their title by a positive entry, either by money or land warrants.

THE "HERALD" OWNS UP.—The New York Herald concedes the election of LINCOLN, and seeks to show what are the "mistakes" on the part of the Democracy which have made such a contingency inevitable. The first serious "mistake" was the repeal of a sacred Compromise; the next a protracted and dastardly attempt to force slavery upon an unwilling Federal Territory, by the use of all the power the National Administration could bring to bear; the final and fatal one, which completes the mischief begun by the tergiversations of PIERCE and, the corruptions of BUCHANAN, was the nomination for President of the man, who is responsible for all the agitations upon the Slavery question that have prevailed through the country during the last six years. The Herald is sound for once.

THE GERMANS AGAINST FUSION.—The last Staats Zeitung, (edited by Mr. OTTENDORFER, the resigned Douglas Elector), has an elaborate article on "The People and the Wire Pullers," in which it denounces fusion in general as demoralizing, and as especially disastrous to the DOUGLAS party at the present time. It speaks of the latest fusion movement at Cooper Institute as a new complication, and the machinations of the old wire-pullers in a new form.

PRENTICE CONCEDES THE ELECTION OF LINCOLN.—The Louisville Journal, the leading BELL paper of the South, gives up the contest by conceding the election of Mr. LINCOLN. In its issue of Tuesday last, it says that neither BRECKINRIDGE nor DOUGLAS can be elected by the people, and that the "expectation of carrying a single Northern State for either of the Democratic candidates is the very extreme of absurdity."

RUNNING AWAY.—The JOE LANE and "Delusion" SMITH men in the Oregon Legislature have taken to the woods to prevent a quorum! But they did not do this until both Houses were organized against them, nor until it was evident that a DOUGLAS and a Republican U. S. Senator would be elected. The Sergeant-at-arms and his posse are after the delinquents.

THE ALBANY JOURNAL offers the following bet:

> $100 that LINCOLN will carry New York.
> $100 that he will carry Pennsylvania.
> $100 that he will carry Indiana.
> $100 that he will carry Illinois.
> $100 that he will be elected President.
> The bets to be taken together.

TWO BARNS BURNT.—During the violent thunder storm that prevailed in this vicinity on Wednesday night last, the barns of Bernard Weir, and —— Messer, both in the neighborhod of Mud Lake, in the town of Polk, were struck by lightning, and, with contents, entirely consumed.

Messer was insured for $500, which covers about half his loss. Weir's loss is about the same, though only insured.—Hartford Home League.

Washington Correspondence.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8, '60.

The political cauldron continues to boil and bubble at this political centre. The Executive Committees of the various parties and factions, crowd every mail with documents to enlighten the dear people. The Republican Committee, headed by PRESTON KING, looms up boldly over all others, in importance and efficiency. It has the great prestige of the winning side. The others are held here as mere side shows, intended more to keep up appearances for future purposes, than for present results. Mr. KING is himself a host. He is one of the most shrewd, deep and far-seeing politicians in the country. Probably no one has done more than he for the organization and success of the Republican party. He has been all Summer the great and skilful Captain of the Republican ship, always on the look out, and treading the deck with the confidence of an "old salt"—in politics, fully conscious of the vast importance of the contest, and with perfect assurance of success. Indeed, LINCOLN'S election is conceded by all parties—even by the President and his Cabinet. And the people generally here and further South, have made up their minds "that perhaps it's all for the best." They see and fully appreciate the dire corruption of the present Administration and the Democratic party, and feel the absolute necessity of a radical change, to save the Government from bankruptcy, and the country from ruin. The politicians, par excellence, especially of the fire-eating school, continue to blow about secession, and blood and thunder generally, to frighten the good people of the North, as "oft they've done before." But that game is played out. It only produces a broad grin on people's faces here, even with Southern men.

I have good facilities for judging of the public sentiment at the South, or rather the real sentiment of the people not so publicly expressed; and I assure you there is very strong undercurrent in favor of LINCOLN'S election in that section. A large proportion of the Southern people, especially the non-slaveholders, are watching this contest with deep anxiety, and would be more painfully disappointed at LINCOLN'S defeat, than even the people at the North. It is their only hope. They are now ground down and all manhood smothered in them by the terrorism of the black spirit of Slavery that enshrouds them. They are held in worse bondage than the slaves in their midst. They dare not even express their sentiments to each other on this subject of Slavery, which is eating up the very soul of their prosperity, unless they do it stealthily. And this, too where the freedom of Speech and the liberty of the Press are guarantied by the Constitution. Talk of nullifying the fugitive slave law! Why, there is not a day nor an hour that every Southern State in this Union does not nullify, not only the laws, but the Constitution itself in this its most vital provision, and a host at the South are praying for LINCOLN'S election, that they may hold up their heads and feel that they are free man in a free country.

There are also very many of the solid Slaveholders who wish to see LINCOLN elected, and they openly give their reasons.—They see that the Democratic party has become a mere machine for extending Slave Territory, re-opening the African Slave Trade, and ultimate dissolution of the Union. In all this they see the utter destruction of their prosperity. The Slave Trade and the extension of Slavery would reduce the present price of their negroes from $1,600, and $2,000, to a nominal sum of $100 to $300 each; and in an attempted dissolution they clearly see a civil war, which could only eventuate setting free every slave in the Union. They have no idea of preparing such a feast for themselves, or to allow any set of men to prepare it for them. So LINCOLN will come in with the general good feeling of all parts of the country, excepting always the "simon-pure" politicians, who will be left out in the rain without pap. The South will be divided between BELL and BRECKINRIDGE. LINCOLN will carry every Free State, with possibly the exception of California, which may be considered doubtful. But poor DOUGLAS, who has done so much dirty work for the South, is now entirely repudiated by them. He will not get a solitary electoral vote.

The Democratic party is indeed very dead, and the old JEFFERSON and JACKSON democrats witness its destruction on the breakers with perfect satisfaction. They find JEFFERSON'S old Democratic principles in the present Republican platform and are "content." I met one of this class to-day—a life-long Democrat from Kentucky, who said, "the Democratic party has made its own bed, let it lie in it, and I pray God it may be a long sleep." And this is the general sentiment.

I am pleased at the vigor of the campaign in Wisconsin. No State has better leaders than ours. Judge DOOLITTLE is one of the few who, from the first, have maintained their position in the front rank of Senators with increasing lustre and honor. As young a Senator as he is, the opinion and influence of none are sought for more than his on all important questions. His great speech on the Judiciary of last session, was sent for by lawyers from all parts of the country.—He is the pride of all "Badgers" sojourning at the capital.

I should regret very much that Hon. C. C. WASHBURN declined a re-election, were it not, as I see by the papers, he will be presented for a seat in the Senate. The power and influence that he has acquired by his long experience here, ought not be lost to our State. We make a great mistake in changing our Representatives so often. He would make a worthy successor to Senator DURKEE, who has a public record he may well be proud of. He has never tired in the good work of bringing the government back to a Democratic standard. He was one of the very few, who, years ago, took a determined stand in Congress for true Jeffersonian principles, and now has the satisfaction of seeing a whole people rising to embrace them.

The prospects of Judge POTTER'S re-election by a large majority, is truly encouraging to all lovers of upright statesmanship, and unflinching integrity and bravery in the discharge of their duties by our public men. His nomination by "acclamation" of the people, was just as it should have been, and his election should be in the same way.

I will venture to say that JOHN F. POTTER has done more than any other one man has ever done, of his length of time in Congress, of actual substantial good to the country, in correcting a terrible state of things here, and in compelling a recognition of those "inalienable rights of men" which we hear so much about, but which, heretofore, have been so "obsolete" in this latitude. He has most effectually broken the back-bone—yes, and knocked out the brains of that domineering, insulting and arrogant spirit of the slave propagandists that has so long reigned supreme here in Congress, and the government department—thoroughly convinced them that though born north of Mason & Dixon's line "a man's a man for a' that." They not only entertain a profound respect for the Judge personally, but treat northern men generally with "distinguished consideration."

The Judge occupies a position in Congress that his constituents would truly be proud of could they be here on the spot. Under the circumstances, I was in hopes he would be re-elected without opposition, as a matter of public expression. I cannot think that any man would be a candidate against him unless he was "instigated by the devil," or, which is the same thing, by the notorious Forty Theives of our State, who hate Judge POTTER with all the virulence with which villainy always hates virtue.

WISCONSIN.

Larrabee at Mayville.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MAYVILLE, Oct. 3d, 1860.

EDITOR SENTINEL — Dear Sir:—Every number of the News and the other LARRABEE organs in this district are filled with glowing accounts of great gatherings of the faithful, &c., but as they have said nothing about the gathering here, I think they ought to be posted. LARRABEE, agreeable to his appointment in the Horicon Argus, came to this place to speak. The Postmaster, in anticipation of the event, got up a banner, and LARRABEE came with his right bower, SAT, and went down street to look up the crowd; stopped in the first saloon, lagered—only one man there—things looked bad; then went to the next—lagered—no crowd there; then went out in the middle of the street—took a general look—could not see the crowd. Finally, he saw 4 or 5 men on a corner of the street—went up to them—invited them to lager, and complained of feeling unwell, and went home. SAT. said this would never do, and after consulting about the matter, he has made an appointment market day at this place, as there are always large gatherings at our annual fairs. We have two companies of Wide Awakes in this town, and anticipate a great gathering at Horicon, the 10th of this month. Look out for a crowd.

I remain truly yours, &c. *

A Protest against Fusion.

HENRY S. RANDALL, a prominent Democrat in Cortland county, New York, and one of the candidates for Elector on the BRECKINRIDGE ticket, writes the following spirited letter, denouncitatory of the "Bargain and Sale" attempted in New York by the Know-Nothing and Douglas leaders:

CORTLAND VILLAGE, N. Y., Sept. 8

DEAR SIR:—Our State Committee are negotiating with the friends of Douglas for a "Union." They write me that they are "recounselling with our friends at Washington." * * * I declare to you frankly, at the outset, that I would much prefer that no fusion take place. In the first place, it seems to me to let us down from the moral dignity of our position. It proclaims that our divorce from the "political gamblers," who buy and sell and swap and cheat and lie and overturn National Conventions, is not a vinculum matrimonii, but simply a temporary "separation;" that by and by we shall again cuddle under the same dirty bed-clothes. This is not the way to build up a sound, and honest, and above all, a permanent party. If we begin with a trade, we shall soon end in a trade.

Secondly, I don't believe the fusion would do any good. The old line whigs and the Americans gave a portion of our State candidates their entire support in the fall election of 1859, while we were acting together in the honey-moon ardor of a recent "Union." The candidates supported by the old line whigs and Americans were elected with one exception, by mere nominal majorities. Now, every indication goes to show that these allies have lost at least one third, and probably one-half of the strength they commanded in 1859. I do not know of one prominent man of that stamp in my vicinity who supports the Bell-Douglas fusion, or who will support it if we make ourselves the third party to it. It is a moderate computation to say that the Americans, &c., will lose 10,000 the votes they cast in 1859, and every one of these votes will go for Lincoln.

As, when united ourselves, and aided by the Americans, we barely match the Republicans, it follows that the defection of ten thousand to Lincoln would put us in a minority of twenty thousand. I grant there is to be some defection in the Republican ranks—and so there will be in our own. If we should set down the Republican defection and adhesion to us at ten thousand more than our defection to them, then it would bring the parties even again. The most sanguine calculator, or rather estimator, of Seward sore heads, cannot put their number higher, or, it seems to me to figure out a more favorable result for us.

And now there is another weight inevitably to be thrown into the Republican scale, in the event of the triple alliance, not included in the previous estimate, not, indeed, to be so thrown, except as the consequence of that alliance. There are multitudes of rule-or-ruin Douglas men in this State who will do nothing which tends to give Breckinridge a better chance of success than Douglas. If Breckinridge succeeds they are politically annihilated. If Lincoln succeeds they start even with us in the race of 1864. They, therefore, would infinitely prefer the success of Lincoln. There are also multitudes of Breckinridge men in this State who would sooner be dragged asunder by wild horses than vote for Douglas, whom they regard as unsound, both personally and politically.—Then, there is a branch of the foreign vote likely to come to us since Douglas has united with the Know-Nothings, but which would leave us if we also unite with the Know-Nothings. The tripled fusion would, I am inclined to think, cost the parties to the contract a number of thousand votes; at all events, enough to render our defeat as certain as the coming election day. * * *

Enthusiasm won't stay at a red heat during a long train of protocols and conferences. The very fact of negotiating for a reunion goes to show plain, reasoning, and earnest men that the original disunion was not so necessary after all. If we can again come together, if there is no insuperable bar of principle, why couldn't we stay together and save all this trouble, is the very natural inquiry. Squabbles so readily adjusted by traffic look vastly, to common men, like lawyers' squabbles in court, the paid for wrath, which is as harmless and Pickwickian as the souring doves. And thus the moral strength and high zeal of a good cause are frittered away.

When we met at the State Convention we were in earnest. The old Gallic legions were there, the scarred and stern soldiers of a thousand fights. We trampled on the last rag of regularity, so far as the State organization was concerned. We crossed the rubicon. Our columns were arrayed for battle, and we looked to see the signal. Bah! They saw the little white flag crossing and re-crossing between us and our foes. And this has been kept up until cowards have had time to look for the strongest side, until the ardor of our bravest has chilled! For why should they strike gallantly against those who to-morrow may be allies, and who, though allies, will not forget the present blow? For God's sake let this be ended. Let us at once have open war or honorable peace"

Republicanism in Virginia.

To the Editor of the New York Tribune:

SIR:—The Republicans of Falls Church in this county, raised a Lincoln and Hamlin pole last Saturday. They nailed the flag to the mast, and will never surrender the principle of free speech. In 1856 no man could vote for FREMONT for fear of being mobbed. I think the Republicans will poll 50 votes now for Lincoln. W.

P. S.—Do not print my name, as it is not safe at present. Curse this despotism, when a man cannot tell the truth without being persecuted. We calculate to carry this State in 1864

Alexandria Co., Va., Oct. 1, '60.

PRESBYTERIAN AND CONGREGATIONAL CONVENTION.—The Annual Convention of Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in Wisconsin, commences its session in the First Presbyterian Church of this city, this evening. The first exercise will be a sermon by the last moderator, Rev. Mr. Sherman, of La Crosse.

The Convention will remain in session during the remainder of this week, and until Monday morning next. A large number of ministers and delegates with their wives will be here, and our citizens should take pride in extending hospitality to these strangers. We presume they will find houses open for their accommodation, and that they will not have reason to complain of the reception given them by the people of Beaver Dam.—Dodge County Citizen.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.
Each bottle, price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.
Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.
Sole Agent for the United States and Canada,
JOB MOSES, (Late I. C. Baldwin & Co.)
N. B.—$1,00 and 5 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle, containing 50 Pills, by return mail.
Sold by all good druggists. oct2k19dteodcow

Dr. Jas. McClintock's Asthma Remedy.

THERE IS NO DISEASE MORE DISTRESSING than Asthma. It "murders sleep" and induces a fear of death by suffocation, that is perfectly horrible. Now, here is a specific which forthwith removes the most painful symptoms, which always in the end effects a cure. Not to resort to it is madness. For whooping cough it is also infallible.
Price 50c. Sold by Henry Fess, Jr., and other druggists. septlsdlm

Pimples on the Face and Skin Diseases

ARE GENERALLY CAUSED BY ANimalcule burrouched in the skin. Dr. Trask's Magnetic Ointment, by its powerful and penetrating qualities, destroys every vestige of them, restoring health and beauty to the skin wherever applied, removing Tan and Freckles.

Inflamed or Sore Eyes.

A. G. Cushing, of South Bend, Ind., says: "The Magnetic Ointment is the only remedy in use here for INFLAMED EYES. The Auditor of our county has so much faith in its curative powers in this disease, that he not only highly recommends it, but offers to forfeit the amount paid for it in each case, if it fails of a cure."

Piles.

Piles which are at this season of the year particularly troublesome, are cured at once by Trask's Magnetic Ointment; apply to the parts affected and smell of the back.

Nervous or Sick Headache.

Apply the Ointment freely to the forehead and temples and back of the neck, also to the soles of the feet and palms of the hands. It will relieve the severest headache in thirty minutes.
☞ Sold by all medicine dealers.

MAKE MY GRAVE BESIDE THE RILL.

BY A. A. HOSKIN.

Come closer to my bedside, mother,
And kiss me e'er I die;
The chill of death is o'er me creeping,
I feel my end is nigh;
And give me now your parting blessing,
Ere death my warm blood chill,
And, when I'm gone, you'll make me, mother,
A grave beside the rill.

For there the wild rose blossoms, mother,
And the blue-birds sweetly sing,
Among the branches of the willow,
Which o'er my head will swing;
And there the gentle summer zephyrs,
With breath more gently still,
As they pass o'er me sleeping, mother,
In my grave beside the rill.

And there the brook will murmur, mother,
Its sweetest song to me;
The grass will fresher grow and greener,
Than elsewhere it could be;
And here, where nature fair and lovely,
The soul with pleasures fill,
Is where I wish to rest, dear mother,
In my grave beside the rill.

And when the shades of evening, mother,
Are gathering softly round;
And dewy tears nature is weeping,
Like stars upon the ground;
And when its daily toils are ended,
And the busy world grows still,
You'll come and drop a tear then, mother,
On my grave beside the rill.

Now take my hand within thine, mother,
And receive my last farwell,
Rely alone on Him for succor,
Who doth all things well:
If far away you're called to wander,
Though I'm dead, you'll love me still,
Nor time nor space shall wean thee, mother,
From my grave beside the rill.

[Written for the Sentinel.]

THE MIDNIGHT RIDE.

BY ARCHIE DEAN.

"Bella! Bella! don't open that drawer. O! I didn't know the key was in it."
The words came too late, for the drawer was open, and Miss Bella, who was on a rumaging expedition, had explored its contents before they were fairly uttered.
"Why, mother there's nothing in it but an old pair of boy 's pants and a jacket, (taking them out as she spoke.) I don't see what you keep those here for, if I was you—"
Bella stopped short, with the garment in her hand, for her father had dropped his newspaper and the room was ringing with his laughter, while her mother had covered her face with her hands, and a bright blush mantled her brow and neck, and tinged even her finger ends. Poor Bella was perfectly bewildered by the strange scene she had occasioned, and her friend Mary Bruce, who with her brother Arthur was spending a few weeks at Valley Farm, laid down her book and looked from one to the other with polite curiosity. Arthur tried to appear very indifferent but succeeded very indifferently.
"Now George, don't," said Mrs. Seaton imploringly to her husband; as he stopped laughing and seemed about to speak, she rose and was leaving the room.
"My dearest love," said Mr. Seaton, as he sprang up and took her hand, bowing before her as gracefully as a court gallant would bow before a queen, while he seemed to worship her with his eyes, as pilgrims worship a saint. "My dearest love, forgive me if I pained you a moment. You know I am a foolish man, given to laughter, and it came upon me so sudden. But I don't feel like laughing now. I know I am forgiven, for the smiles are coming. These youngsters are nearly dead with curiosity. Sit down, and let me show them, why, after twenty years of marriage, my love for you is stronger than it was the day I called you mine."
He raised his hand to his lips, then led her to the sofa and sat down beside her, while the "youngsters" gathered round to listen to the story.
"Now you will hear some of mama's perfections," cried Bella, as she seated herself on a low ottoman, and took her mother's other hand. "They're papa's untiring theme. When I get a husband—"
"Hush! chatter-box. I'll tell you the story of the midnight ride."
When I was a boy I was apprenticed to a druggist in the little village where I lived. My parents were poor, and as I lived in the house of my employer, the little salary I received was quite an assistance to them.—He was not a hard master, and I had no particular reason to complain. There was another member of the family who did not fare quite well. Little Madaline Ray was an orphan, and Mrs Monroe had taken her to "bring up." She was maid-of all-work and a sorry time the poor little thing had. She had black eyes, a round, chubby face, and a heart as light as a bird's. I grew very fond of little Madaline, and as years passed on and we grew older, I knew that she loved me with all her heart.
Mrs. Monroe saw how matters were going on, and of course must interfere; for what reason I never could find out, unless it was to make us unhappy. At length Madaline was sent away to another part of the State to drudge for some one else. Home had no pleasures for me when she was gone, and I soon joined a party that was going overland to California. The route they were to take would bring us within ten miles of where Madaline had gone. I knew they would pass the night there, and I thought I could take a horse and go to see her, if only for an hour, to bid her good bye and cheer her with the hope that I would soon return rich enough to marry her.
I wrote to Madaline, telling her my plan, and bidding her keep up good courage. When the company arrived at the place I have mentioned, I found it utterly impossible for me to get away. What a long, dreary night that was to me. I paced the encampment with restless steps, and till the morning broke I dreamed of Madaline. Just as the day began to dawn, I heard the tramping of horses' feet, and in a few moments a horse galloped up, ridden by a boy some twelve or thirteen years old. He was a little dark skinned fellow, scantily clothed, and seemed worn and tired, as though he had ridden far.
He seemed to hesitate when he saw me, but gaining courage, he slid off the horse's back and approached me.
"Are you all really going to California?"
"Yes, we expect to; at any rate we have started for there."
"O! will you let me go with you?"—Then, seeing I looked rather astonished, he continued rapidly as though fearing the answer: "Do please, take me with you; I have got no friends, and I want to go so much. I will work for you. I can do lots of things: more than you think for. I won't eat much, and I'll do anything in the world if you'll only let me go."
I was touched by his appeal and interested in spite of myself. I resolved to take him along, and trust to luck, which I had a perfect right to do, as each one furnished his own provisions, and if I chose to share mine with him, it was all right. My interest daily increased in little "Johnnie." He made himself useful in a thousand ways, and soon became a great favorite with our "mess." But he could not conquer his natural timidity, and seldom spoke with any one but me. Indeed even I could scarcely get him to talk, except during a halt. If I would take a walk with him, he would chatter away quite lively, and his remarks were so innocent and child like, and sometimes so beautiful, that it was really a treat to me. At night he would curl himself up in one corner of my blanket, but with the first birdnote he was up.
While crossing the plains I was taken sick. A heavy cold threw me into a fever, and then it was that I knew the worth of Johnnie. I do believe I should have died but for his watchful care. I knew the little fellow loved me, for he had told me his history, poor child, what there was of it, that he had no parents and had run away from his master, but when he would steal to my side, when he thought me sleeping, and lightly kiss my forehead, while his tears fell silently on my face, I could but wonder at such a depth of love. I recovered after a time, and then began to observe a change in my protege. He seemed struggling under an unsupportable weight—every movement was an effort, and at last I found him in the back of my wagon in a dead faint. The fever was on him. Calling one of the men to my assistance, I bade him rub the child while I ran for some water. On my return he was still unconscious, but—Morris said in a low tone—
"I say, Seaton, here's a go."
"What do you mean," said I.
"Why, I mean that your boy happens to be a girl," he answered.
"Great heaven, a girl!" I cried.
He gently, almost reverently, opened the little worn jacket, displaying a bosom white as snow, and on it lay a little locket. Sharper than an arrow, was the pang that went through my heart, as my pale lips gasped out:
"O! my God! 'Tis Madaline!"
There were two or three ladies in the company, and to them I committed my darling, telling them all I knew about it, and begging them to take care of her, and wait till she could explain the mystery. So they made a nice soft bed in one of the wagons, and for the first time in years, my poor Madaline was cared for by gentle hands and loving hearts. How I blessed them for their kindness, heaven only knows.
It was two weeks before I was allowed to see her, and then one of the ladies told me she was some better, and wanted to see me. O, how changed she was, the unusual exposure had nearly killed her, and the look on her pale wasted face, almost broke my heart. Then she told her story.
"O! George, will you forgive me? I could not help it, indeed I could not. I got your letter and I cried all day because you were going away, and my mistress scolded me and sent me to bed without my supper. I lay there crying and thinking of you, and that maybe you would be sick and die, and never come back, and then what would become of me. So, all at once, I thought I would go with you. I never thought of the danger and exposure, and that I might get found out. I only thought I must go with you, and that there was not a moment to loose. So I jumped out of bed, went into the next room, where my master's son slept, and put on his clothes. I then went to the stable and took out a horse, with nothing on him but a baller, I mounted and started. I soon reached the next town where there was a man I knew who kept a little shop, and sold drugs and medicines; he was also a barber and hair-dresser. He lived in his store, so I rode directly there and waked him up.
I quickly told him what I wanted, and in about five minutes he had all my hair off and made me as much like a boy as possible.—My hair was very long and soft, and he paid me for it, and then fixed me something to wash my face and hands in that made them dark. In the meantime he told me where to leave the horse when I had joined you, where he could get it and restore it to its owner, so that I needn't be a horse thief.—He showed me which way to go, and then I got on and rode as hard as I could till I found you. Now, George, you won't be vexed with me, will you?"
"Well, that is a very nice story," said Bella, as her father stopped, "but how did it end?"
"It has not ended yet, nor will it till the daisies bloom over our heads."
"But how came mother by the little clothes?"
"Your mother was Madaline Ray. And for twenty years I have blessed the impulse that prompted her to take 'THE MIDNIGHT RIDE.'"

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Discovery of a New Mountain Pass.

OMAHA, Nebraska, Oct. 6—9 P. M.

Capt. Reynolds, of the 10th Infantry, U. S., who arrived in this city on Tuesday from an exploring tour of the Wead river country. He reports having discovered a pass 2,500 feet lower than any heretofore discovered on the line of the Rocky Mountains. It is about the 45th deg. of latitude.

An extensive sale of mules and ponies took place in this city to-day. The sale took place under the direction of Captain Reynolds and Lieutenant Magruder of the 10th Infantry. The animals brought a good price.

Large Republican Meeting at Columbus, O.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6—9 P. M.

There was a large and enthusiastic Republican gathering at Columbus yesterday; from 4,000 to 7,000 people were present. Speeches were made by Tom Corwin and others. In the evening the Wide Awakes had a torchlight procession; bonfires were burned, and rockets sent off.

The two mile heat race between Alamada and Blue Tail Fly, for $2,000, was won by the former.

Death of an Artist.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 4—9 P. M.

Charles Frazer, an artist, died this P. M., aged 80 years. He was a distinguished miniature painter 40 years ago.

TORONTO, C. W., Oct. 6—9 P. M.

A meeting of an Orange character was held last night at St. Lawrence Hall. Resolutions were passed censuring the Duke of Newcastle, and the Provincial Government, for reference to the Orange difficulties during the Prince of Wales visit. A committee was appointed to prepare an address to the Queen, and Imperial Parliament, embodying these resolutions and a narrative of the difficulty.

A WISCONSIN BOY INVENTOR.—George S. Knapp, aged twenty years, residing in the adjoining town of Greenfield, has made a handsome and perfectly working model of Williams' Patent Reaper, with an ingenious improvement attached of his own invention, at a total cost, besides his time and labor, of only one dollar. The improvement consists in a brake communicating with the driver's seat, by which, in a moment, the reaping apparatus may be raised or lowered to accommodate either lodged or heavy straw, or for any other purpose. This meets a want, which, on rough ground especially, has proved a great inconvenience in all reapers; and as the improvement is capable of ready application to the many varieties of machines now before the public, we think it must come into general use. Mr. Knapp has made application for a patent, and we hope he will get it, and make a fortune out of it. —Baraboo Republic.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT. — A young man named Thomas Tregilgas, while engaged in mining a few miles from this city, met with a serious accident on Monday last, by the caving in of the clay, burying him beneath it, where he remained for some time, but was luckily discovered by his father in time to save his life. On being extricated, it was found that his collar bone was broken, and that he was otherwise severely injured.—Mineral Point Tribune.

COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY P. M., October 6, 1860.

The money market has worked smoothly all the week. Eastern Exchange has been in good supply, the banks selling uniformly to their customers at ¾ @ cent premium, buying at ½@¾. The advance at Chicago has created a demand for it outside of the legitimate wants of our merchants, and it is therefore more firm on this account. The offerings of produce paper have been moderate, and the week closes on an easy market for money.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The demand for Eastern Exchange to-day was again active and the market firm. On the street ¾ @ cent premium was freely offered, and ¾ @ cent was paid for destinable bills. The bankers were selling at ¾ @ ¾c. par, and buying at ½@¾c.

Currency is in fair supply.

NEW YORK MONEY MATTERS.

We have the following by telegraph from New York to-day, in reference to money and stocks:

Money and exchange without any new features. Stocks easier and in fair demand. NEW BANKING HOUSE.

The Press & Tribune announces that arrangements are perfecting for the establishment of a new banking house in Chicago. B. F. Carver, the cashier of the Marine Bank, is to be the manager and one of the principal owners of the institution. It is expected that it will be opened about the 20th.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., Oct. 6, 1860.

The receipts of wheat to-day were again meagre; amounting to 78,857, exclusive of the deliveries by teams. The market opened this morning at an improvement of 1c over yesterday's ruling prices, and on 'Change another advance of 1c was contended for but not generally conceded on the part of buyers, and consequently transactions were limited. Holders were very firm, and expected that 95c would be freely paid for No. 1 spring in store on Monday. Shippers on the other hand have no confidence that the New York market will be maintained at present figures, and as any further advance upon the prices offered is based on anticipations of still higher prices at New York, were not disposed to buy any more than they had pressing need of. In fact there were some more willing to sell for future delivery at, lower prices, than to purchase at the figures asked, an evidence of which we have in the sale of 10,000 bus No. 1 all next week at 96c. The sales reported up to the close of 'Change were only 50,000 bus at 93@95c for No. 1 spring in store; 91@92c for No. 2 in store; 90c for Club delivered and 97c for Extra Club. The bulk of the sales were at 92 and 91c for No. 2 and No. 1.

The market for the present week opened with a rising tendency, under the influence of the news of a favorable change in the English markets, and subsequent advices being of the same tenor, prices have improved almost every day. Taking the outside figures of last Saturday—89c for No. 1—and the outside figures of to-day—95c for No. 1—we have an advance for the week of 6c ₰ bus. But, notwithstanding the upward tendency of the market, receipts, it will be seen, are some 14,000 bus less than last week, the stormy weather, doubtless restricting deliveries at the country stations. Should present prices be maintained, and the roads at all passable, we may look for a large increase the coming week.

An active demand has sprung up for flour, and sale during the last three days have been quite large, and at better prices by 15@25c than have been paid than were offered for the same descriptions last week, common to good country extras bringing $4,50@4,75, and choice brands $4,85@5. A large share of the purchases were for the Portland and Boston markets.

Grain freights have declined very materially since last week. To-day vessels were freely offered at 10c for wheat to Buffalo, and several engaged at that rate. The largest fleet that has been here at any one time this season is now in our harbor.

The following tables will show the receipts and shipments of flour and grain for the past week, with the sources of supply and points of destination:

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The receipts of wheat to-day were again liberal, amounting to 147,151 bus. The market, under a more active inquiry by shippers, as well as a decline in freights, was considerably firmer, and we note an advance of 1@2c ₰ bu. About 200,000 bus changed hands, at 93c for Extra Club; 90@91c for Northwestern Club; 88¾@89c for No. 1 Spring, and 86@87c for No. 2 Spring—the demand at the close being active and the market very firm at 86¾c. There was some inquiry for Winter Wheat, and sales made at 95c for No. 1 Red, and 91c for No. 2 Red.

The flour market was dull and heavy, with limited transactions at $4,50@4,75 for medium to choice Spring extras. Corn was in good request and 1c higher, with sales of about 70,000 bus, at 43c for No. 2 Canal; at 42@43c for No. 1 in store, and 41@42c for No. 2 in store. Oats were in good demand, but the firmness of holders limited transactions—the sales being light at 19c in store. Rye was in very active inquiry and at 19c in store. Barley remained dull, with limited transactions. Timothy seed was quiet but firm at $2,15@2,18. Highwines, held at 18½c for country, and 19¾c for city in lots.

Freights were 1c lower.

The following are the engagements were at the following rates: Wheat to Buffalo, 11@12c; corn to Buffalo, 10¾c; wheat to Oswego 10¾@11c.

Milwaukee Live Stock Market.

SATURDAY P. M., Oct. 6th, 1860.

Not being able to obtain the exact receipts of live stock at all the yards this week, we give the arrivals by each of the railroads, and as J. & G. ADAM'S yard, which do not include any of the former; and these are doubtless considerably short of the whole number received:

BEEF CATTLE—Our beef packers commenced slaughtering this week, and the two leading houses, Messrs. LAYTON & PLANKINTON, and EDWARD RUDDIS & Co., have probably packed not far short of eight hundred head of cattle. The market has been steady at about the same prices that were paid last week, medium to good cattle bringing $2,25@2,50 ₰ cwt gross for packing. The increased supply consequent upon the opening of the packing season has given the city butchers an opportunity of supplying themselves at rather easier prices than heretofore, and only a few very choice cattle have brought more than $2,50 for the city trade. We note the following sales:

24 cattle, averaging	1200 lbs, at	$2,50	₰ cwt.

26 do	at 2,37½ do
4 do	at 2,25 do

HOGS—The trade in hogs has been confined to a few sales to city butchers, at $5,50@5,75 ₰ cwt. gross for fair to heavy porkers.

SHEEP—Small sales at $2,50@3,00.

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

(FOR WEEK ENDING OCT. 5TH, 1860.)

The annexed table shows the receipts for the week, and for the season thus far:

	This week.	For season.
Lumber, feet	667,000	24,782,000
Lath, ft	55,000	1,647,500
Shingles.....	81,000	10,630,000

The rainy weather has interfered somewhat with the trade for the past week; nevertheless a large amount of lumber has been sold at the yards. The demand continues to increase, and prices are very firm at quotations.

Arrivals of cargoes, though larger than last week, are still small. Lath and shingles are especially active and in good request.

Among sales of cargoes are:

Schooner Triumph, Malmstoe	$10,000
do Guido, Oconto.....	10,000
do Transit, Manitowoc.....	9,000
Small cargo of shingles at	8,000

We are indebted to Messrs. HOUGHTON BROS., lumber dealers, corner of Third and Tamarack streets, for the following list of yard prices:
